SHOW WEEK The Detachment certainly excelled itself with parties during the week starting on the 26th Sept.

Sunday saw the first small affair which turned into a complete shemozzle with the OC, Mr Yerbs and Chalky having a swimming race in the ice boxes. Also 31 ALPHA spent quite a bleary afternoon. All in all this was a good start to a torrid week.

Monday afternoon was the official Farewell Party Day for members of the Detachment going home. This was quite a gay afternoon with speeches and toasts being the order of the day.

On the thursday the Detachment acted as host to the members of the Melbourne Show. The Day which included a bar-be-que was a great success.

MORE CHANGES It is with pleasure we see Pete "Tubes" Fletcher, now a Lance Bombardier, taking over the shaky reins of Tpt/Sig NCO from old Rake Boneser.

Several changes are already noticable. With the approaching 'Dry' season, so far two Land-Rovers have been converted to Beach-Buggies. A little bird (feathered variety) has wispered that the frames have been taken off these vehicles for conversion to Surf-board racks. The Detachment wishes Pete success with his newly acquired green cab company.

HOME NEWS DEPARTMENT L/Bdr Bruce "Squirrel" Irvine received a letter from Bdr Murray Poustie informing him that all appears to be going quite well. He is working at Vic Barracks (Melb) on light duties and the repat department has taken good care of him, not to mention the war pension he is receiving. The terrible indignity suffered by him at the hands of the VC is more than compensated for with the pension he will be getting!

DEVOTION TO DUTY...AND ALL THAT. Mentioned in despatches should certainly be made of Frank 'the wog' IFSA's absolute devotion to duty. When suggested by the OC that he look after a certain female brunette Denise Drysdale (who's occupation shall remain anonymous). It is noted in all circles the speedy, efficient and absolutely thorough manner in which he carried out this task, over and above the normal call. Well done.....Giovanni.....!

STILL WONDERING Gnr 'Snoopy' Hemming is wondering how our Blue Leaders photos will turn out of the party.....He expended most of his shots with his lens-cap still on.....

WIGHTY'S SHAVING GEAR MYSTERY. Mr Wight seems to be having some trouble keeping track of his shaving gear. Brian 'Wirey' Hackett has aroused some suspicion with his peddling of toilet gear on the sly. But relax, Mr Wight, he has'nt managed to sell much yet!

FOOT-NOTE Shonkers take note! You too can have a well earned rest if you follow the example of Ray Hutchinson and Ric 'the feet' Marques, and have a foot injury; but don't overdo it, get advice from the forementioned experts. We sincerely hope, in our SOLES, that their wounds soon HEAL.....

TO THE EDITOR: AT 2350 hours Capt Jones rang and asked for the 131 operator on duty. This is another first which will be entered into the unit history of the Det 131 Div Loc Bty RAA. This only leaves 2 grid squares in the PHOUIC TUY province from which the 131 operator at Arty Tac has not been called.

Suggestion;- have a competition to guess which are the 2 grid refs. Operators note;- the call was made through the remote system in the radio. Capt Jones is at present on the operation KENMORE.

ORIGINATOR: Capt Jones
